Lymington 1 v Chapel

Following a sixth successive promotion, Lymington 1 started the new season in Bournemouth with a win over Chapel. The win was not straight forward as only three minutes into the game debut player Rosie Gordon had to leave the court with an injury. Playing the rest of the quarter a player short, meant at the first interval Lymington were trailing by 7 goals. Without a substitute, the Lymington 3 team playing on an adjacent court came to the rescue, and one of their under 16 players, Isabella Springbett, stepped up to the first team to play at WD. The team increased their intensity in the second quarter and at half time Lymington had swung the match to lead by five goals. The third quarter saw the lead increase further with an excellent work-rate from Shemma Riggs and Lauren Walker in the mid court. The defence dealt well with the threat of a tall shooter had forced many mistakes which were capitalised upon with good circle feeds and conversion to goal by the shooters. Overall the pressure from the defence and speed and creativity of the attack were too much for Chapel and Lymington 1 sealed their first win in Division One 45-32.
